ABOUT / ME

My name is Alfredo Haack, and design has been a passion of mine from a very young age. I was always in search of ways to improve the environment around me by leveraging new trends and technology. After graduation, I focused on editorial design, branding development and interior design for retail stores and nightlife locations. In 2007, I came to the United States in search of new opportunities within the design world. Since then, I have primarily dedicated myself to design for web environments—while always approaching my work with branding in mind. I pride myself in my continuing to stay ahead of the curve of software, resulting in faster turnaround times and more efficient workflows. Over my career, I have worked in key industries, such as eCommerce, Arts & Entertainment, Technology, Travel & Tourism and Health Sciences. Experience across these vastly different areas has allowed me to strengthen my design skillset, allowing me to offer my clients comprehensive solutions to any marketing challenge.

We are launching an exciting new program, World of Travel which speaks to travel and tourism and allows viewers to auction and directly purchase travel packages. And we thought you might be interested in being part of this program.

PARTNERING WITH THE WORLD OF TRAVEL WOULD ALLOW YOU TO:

- Reach a highly engaged, 55+ purchase-ready audience with whom we already enjoy a trustworthy relationship;
- Be present in a creative non-traditional manner in a live TV setting; and
- Be seen in over 42M households via DirecTV, Spectrum, Dish and Roku.

I would love to discuss this opportunity more thoroughly, so I will be trying to reach you in the next few days to gauge your interest.
